NEWSLETTER OF THE HUDSON AREA PUBLIC LIBRARY
JANUARY 2017

Winter Reading Program

It's that time again! At the Hudson Library we are offering our Winter Reading Program, running from January 3—March 4. Ages 14 and up may register at the Adult Services Desk and grab a reading log to get started. Each log you complete will earn you an entry in the grand prize drawing. Everyone receives a prize for the first log he or she completes. Play as often as you like; only one log may be turned in per day. Best of luck and happy reading!

SCORE Small Business Workshops

SCORE is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping small businesses get off the ground through education and mentorship. They will be offering a 5-part series on starting a small business, which you can attend at the Library—for free! You will learn how to define and evaluate your business idea, develop a marketing strategy, understand business financials, identify the best ways to fund your start-up, get useful and helpful mentoring sessions, and connect with other entrepreneurs. Join us at the Library, every other Saturday from 10:30am-12:30pm, starting January 21.

Introducing: Paper Play

Planner Play is expanding into Paper Play! This is a monthly program providing space for all paper crafters. Bring your supplies and invite your friends for an evening of playing with all things paper: card-making, planning, scrapbooking, Project Life, Bullet Journaling, coloring and more. Bring your unwanted supplies for our swap table. Refreshments will be served.
