DIRECTOR'S REPORT – JULY 2023

Library Board of Trustees

Summer Reading Program Update

We've had excellent numbers for the Summer Reading Program. In early July our participation tally was 600 kids. The program ends in mid-August. We will likely surpass our record year of 2019.

The program's key components:

- The reading program itself includes incentives and prizes.
- Weekly family performances such as magicians, a petting zoo and reptile show.
- A mix of programs every week for all ages: art, STEM, book clubs and cooking.
- Outdoor storytimes.
- Since nearly all of the programs filled up before summer officially started, the programming crew was determined to ensure there were special activities at the library for everyone. Each week we feature a craft, which can be completed in the building or brought home, and a special activity.

The summer has been busy overall. In June we had over 9,100 people visit the building. The parking lot is full every morning and afternoon.

Kiwanis Partnership

We've been running a K-Kids Service Club at the library for nearly five years. Kiwanis usually sponsors these clubs at local elementary schools, but that approach wasn't a good fit in Hudson. The library agreed to run a K-Kids club that would be open to the community vs. an individual school.

As K-Kids members age out of the club, they've been lobbying Kiwanis and the library for a Builders Club, which is designed for middle schoolers. We've agreed to run that club as well, and Kiwanis will be the sponsor. Kiwanis volunteers also work with librarians to keep the programs active.

I officially become president of Kiwanis this fall. I'm looking forward to expanding the club's literacy work.

Community events

Throughout the past few years, the library has committed resources to outreach and collaboration. We've significantly increased our presence and involvement in community events: early childhood screenings, the Hudson Expo, National Night Out, Hot Air Affair, school visits, Trick or Treat Trail, Riverfest, the Booyah, senior living centers, teen/tween events with YMCA and other special events. Riverfest, which has been run by a handful of volunteers, is in the process of transitioning the event to Daybreak Rotary. I've been minimally involved this year (through the library and Rotary) with the potential to expand the library's involvement next summer. The board and staff will have to discuss the value of these outreach efforts and how to better align our resources if we want to continue and/or expand.

Volunteers

Our volunteer hours have been ranging between 26-55 hours each week. This doesn't include hours from the Friends, the Foundation, the Teen Advisory Board or the K-Kids Service Club. We're pleased with the numbers but would still like to boost involvement from high school students. Teens who volunteer are unofficial "youth ambassadors" who get other teens to attend programs and events.

Grants

The Hudson Area Library Foundation has agreed to support two additional grants: the new study pods in the former iLab room and a scanner for the history room. The history room volunteers are going to digitize photos and other documents to create a more robust online history resource center.

Wisconsin's shared revenue program

State lawmakers passed, and the Governor has signed, a bill to increase shared revenue to municipalities. This has been a long-standing issue as communities deal with financial restrictions from levy limits.

Hudson was expected to receive about $161,000. With the bill's passage, the amount will actually be $528,000. This hopefully will help the Council as they weigh the library's funding request along with other city priorities.

ARTICLE III—Officers Section 1 Election of Officers
