Handmade Wooden Mölkky Set

---

Mölkky is a Finnish throwing game suitable for everyone regardless of age or condition. Mölkky requires no special equipment and success is based on a combination of chance and skill. The players use a wooden pin (also called "mölkky") to try to knock over wooden pins (called "skittles") which are marked with numbers from 1 to 12. Knocking over one pin scores the amount of points marked on the pin. Knocking 2 or more pins scores the number of pins knocked over (e.g., knocking over 3 pins scores 3 points).

This game is tons of fun for adults and kids. It helps kids develop fine motor control, and seniors also love this timeless game as it helps with movement. Toss the rope rings at the wooden score board and see if you can hit the pegs! After you've thrown all five rings, use the number markers to add up your score. Whoever gets the most points wins the game!

Flickin' Chicken

Tell family and friends that you'll bring the chicken to your next family gathering! Flickin' Chicken is a crazy new yard game played with rubber chickens – and it's great for all ages, especially little ones. Imagine rubber chickens meet miniature golf. Players toss the target to get started, and then take turns flickin' their chicken at the target. After nine rounds, the player with the lowest score (the fewest flicked chickens) wins. Sounds easy enough, but these funky chickens bounce and roll, so hitting the target will test your chicken flickin' skills!

Ladder Toss

Ladder toss is a lawn game played by throwing bolas (two balls connected by a string) onto a ladder. The game was formerly known as "Horsey Golf" when it was first created.

There are two ladders and a set of three bolas per team. Each ladder has three rungs, each rung scoring a different point value. One common method of scoring is to have the rungs be one, two and three points. In one variety the top is worth 1, middle is 2, and bottom is 3. Points are tallied at the end of each round after all teams have thrown their bolas. The bolas suspended on the ladder score the points for that rung, often with the goal of getting at least 21 points to win. Simple to set up and fun for all ages!
